News Release

Notice of Relocation: New Tsukudo Terrace Head Office Building is now open aiming to Create New Customer Value

EPS Holdings, Inc. (Head Office: Shinjuku-ku, Tokyo; Representative Director: Hao Yan; hereinafter, the “Company”) hereby announces that it will move into its new Tsukudo Terrace head office building (Tsukudohachimancho, Shinjuku-ku, Tokyo) on Monday, January 31, 2022.

■ About Tsukudo Terrace

The EPS Group has been erecting a new office building in celebration of its 30th anniversary to act as a critical base for the conglomerate next to the historic Tsukudo Hachiman Shrine. With the completion of the new Tsukudo Terrace head office building, the Company will move its principal Group supervisory functions from its old head office (Kagurazaka AK Building; Tsukudocho, Shinjuku-ku) to Tsukudo Terrace.

The Company aims to invigorate communication among the entire EPS Group companies and strengthen cooperation through Tsukudo Terrace. Therefore, it has been designed to have an extremely spacious feel inviting intellectual thought. It is also a place where Group employees can gather freely to better tackle a variety of challenges, such as reforming work styles, sharing an office space accommodating to those reforms, reduction in costs through efficient office use, and helping achieve the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). Tsukudo Terrace will also be a model venue to put practical inspiration and action to the test.

The Tsukudo Terrace is not only a place for Group employees to connect with one another but also with customers, business partners, and the local community. By inspiring ideas and synergy to help create new services and solutions through these connections, the Company aims to both further enhance and create customer value.
